

LEARN TIBETAN

Intensive Language Course – Boston April 2007

"In the Degenerate Age I will live in the sacred letters" ...Buddha Shakyamuni

Deepen your relationship with the Dharma, learn to read Buddhist prayers and texts in the Tibetan language.

Level I Course: April 14th, 15th, 16th

The first weekend provides a comprehensive introduction, or thorough review, of the basics of the Tibetan language. Students will learn to read and write the Tibetan script, use the Tibetan dictionary and acquire a preliminary vocabulary.

Level II Course: April 20th, 21st, 22nd

The second class is a direct continuation of the first, providing an important opportunity to support and enhance what was previously learned. This course establishes an excellent foundation for translating the sacred texts.

Registration

Early registration cost per weekend: $175, both weekends: $300. For registration after March 31st: $225 per weekend, both weekends: $350. Required texts (available at KTK): TLI's Level I manual and Level II manual: $25 each. Early registration suggested as space is limited.

Contact

Please visit our website at www.ktk-boston.org, email us at event@ktk-boston.org or call at 781-789-2494.

Location

The classes will be held at Karma Trinley Kunchab, 12 Marion Rd, Watertown, MA 02472. KTK is associated with Kagyu Thubten Chöling, the retreat center of Kyabje Dorje Chang Kalu Rinpoche, under the guidance of Lama Norlha Rinpoche.

Instructor

David Curtis has been a student of Tibetan Buddhism for over twenty years and a teacher of Tibetan for fourteen. He studied for five years at the College Monastique de Kagyu Ling, in France, where he completed the traditional three-year retreat under H.E. Kalu Rinpoche. In 1993 he founded the Tibetan Language Institute. He has developed innovative methods and materials for the teaching of Tibetan which have been endorsed by renowned Lamas such as Bokar Rinpoche and Thrangu Rinpoche. David has taught at many Dharma centers around the country and recently trained several of Bardor Tulku Rinpoche's retreatants in the Tibetan language. He is an extremely devoted and enthusiastic teacher who makes a lasting and positive impact on his students. For more information on David and the Tibetan Language Institute, please visit: www.tibetanlanguage.org

